

Unique T-shirts

Press Release

Phoenix, AZ USA (December 11, 2020)

A lot of times, if you do a Google search online or something for the keyword fashion t-shirts or high fashion t-shirts, you may come across a local t-shirt supplier or some basic-ass, un-original compilation of styles that could oh-so-easily be blended in with millions of others matching not-so fabulous t-shirt designs. Wow. Really?

That's a shame.

Don't get me wrong, there is absolutely nothing wrong with preferring basic, plain, mainstream or blending in with everyone else fashion. If you like that, I love that for you. To each his own. Granted.

But right now, this article is in dedication to, the conjuring and lure of the many, many men, women and even kids out there in this world that dare to be different and distinguished.* The ones who choose the appealing and yet distinctive, the sort-of underground high fashion clothing line. I guess the modern terminology for this would be indie fashion.

I have even done searches online via Google and Bing for keyword terms including indie t-shirts, unique t-shirts, stylish t-shirts and t-shirts with designs. Even seeing the types of results that come up on search engines these search engine giants, you will see many styles but many of them are not really distinctive. I'm thinking to myself, is this what is considered to be unique, exotic and distinctive? This can't be! The styles in the search results usually blend in with each other. Nothing that really says, I am DIFFERENT... Hear me Roar!

But in fact, this is where Diamondfire Apparel comes in...

What would you call these types of designs? Could they be considered apart of hip hop fashion?

Now let's not confuse this... There is a fashion boutique shop for Diamondfire Apparel, but then there is also an indie fashion blog for Diamondfire Apparel. And the fashion blog is absorbed with fun and interesting content including news, photography, fashion art, quotes, food recipes and last but certainly not least poetry. That's right! Diamondfire Apparel Official Indie Fashion Blog is definitely not your average fashion blog at all. These types of content are featured on the blog because they are highly interesting topics and nothing beats offering a nice variety of intriguing things in one place. You're Invited. (Wink!)

Fashion Design is My Therapy. I remember at the age of 18, 19 – me, sketching diagrams of fashion merchandise. Shoes, clothes, boots and costume jewelry. I’ve always had a passion for fashion. I taught myself how to sew fashion clothes and accessories when I bought my first sewing machine from Walmart online.

I think that taking on the challenge of fashion sewing became such a “learn-able task” for me because both my mother and grandmother were also seamstresses, plus I am a hands-on learner. My mother was a highly skilled seamstress. She used to handmake pillows and curtains, even my baby clothes! (I am not anywhere near THAT skilled in fashion sewing, lol!) But I guess that I “inherited” the skill. I DO know how to make fashion blouses, shawls, jackets, furs, skirts and tube dresses, certain fashion accessories, etc. I had to learn firsthand what the construction of fashion garments were like. It was an interesting experience. I am lighting up as I am talking about this subject now. (blushing) Review my fashion resume.

I still enjoy fashion sewing very much, but I think now that I am getting older I have less patience and time to do it. I have grown to respect seamstresses and designers of a higher seniority. Generally-speaking, when people go into a fashion store or see an item of fashion, they don’t really understand the labor and creativity that was put in to the make and look of the item. And the more creative the design, the more work was necessary to put in. I acknowledge this, as a seamstress who makes her own clothing, I have come to respect this very much.

That’s why I design t-shirts and clothing now. You can definitely get creative with t-shirt designs and it takes less time!
